

AACN's Guide to Advocacy

Amplifying the Voice of Academic Nursing

AUGUST 2022 EDITION

As Congress looks toward returning to their states and districts during August recess, it is increasingly important your federal policymakers hear from you. Connect with your legislators to discuss important topics currently impacting your community and our nation.

What is August Recess?

Traditionally, when Congress is "in session," legislators are working in our nation's capital, Washington D.C. When Congress is "in recess," legislators are typically working in their home states and districts connecting with their constituents and gaining critical insight on the issues impacting their day-to-day life. As we continue to address public health challenges, August recess provides an opportunity to connect with your Members of Congress.

Connecting with Federal Policymakers

Contact your federal policymakers' office to schedule a virtual or in-person appointment with the Member of Congress or their staff.

Social Media Engagement

Engage with Members of Congress by:

- + Following your federal legislators on their official Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram accounts for updates on events and more.
- + Interacting with your federal legislators' posts and tweets by commenting, liking, and retweeting.
- + Visit your federal legislators' official website where you can sign up for newsletters, see their position on important topics, and more.
- + Follow @AACNPolicy on Twitter for the latest legislative and policy updates.

Become an AACN Advocate

As an AACN Advocate, you will:

- + Receive Action Alerts requesting you to contact Congress on timely issues.
- + Receive updates through Washington Weekly, AACN's federal policy and advocacy newsletter.
- + Gain access to breaking news regarding legislative and regulatory activities relevant to academic nursing.
- + Together, AACN Advocates helped pass the Title VIII Nursing Workforce Development Reauthorization, included $200 million in supplemental funding for the Nurse Corps in the American Rescue Plan Act, and ensured academic nursing provisions were included in the House-passed Build Back Better Act.

Three Virtual Ways to Connect with your Member of Congress

View Hybrid Events and Livestreams

Many Members of Congress are taking part in virtual and in-person events and online livestreams to discuss their take on important topics. These can be found on their official website and social media accounts.

Request a Site Visit

Submit a request to your Member of Congress asking for a virtual or a potential in-person tour of your program. This is a great opportunity for federal legislators to see firsthand how academic nursing is preparing the nation's nursing workforce to combat current and future health challenges.

Attend a Virtual, In-Person, or Telephone Town Hall

Attending virtual town hall meetings or in-person events gives you an opportunity to ask questions and receive updates on important topics affecting your state or district. These can be found by looking at your federal legislators' website.
